MIDDLETOWN, DEL., JULY 13, 1901.

OUR SCHOOL TEACHERS The Board of Education at a recent meeting unanimously reelected the four lady assistant teachers who have for several years taught Middletown's 'young ideas how to shoot," and at the same time raised their compensation one dollar per week or forty dollars for the school year. This is a well merrited reward for faithful service and was the proper thing to do. The pay even at the increased rate is none too large for the service rendered.

IMMIGRATION

For many years prior to the great upheaval in the labor world caused by the establishment of great manufacturing plants and the building of great railroads, the bulk of the immigration into and west of Europe. At least three-fourths of all who came to freedom's gates were English, Trish Scotch Germans or Swedes, and they came with the intention of becoming citizens and a majority of them sought the great West and became farmers. But since 1885, this class has fallen into a decided minority and during the last year nearly three-fourth of all the immigrants have been Poles, Huns, Italians, Russians or Austrians, all from the south and east of Europe. This class tend Friday evening in the lecture room of to cities and go to make up the the Presbyterian Church. Anarchists, Socialists, Communists and the other "ists" that have been and are still a menace to society. These people become naturalized, many of them before they have learned to speak English, and being illiternate to Philadelphia, were guests of Mr. and an astonishing degree, form the basis of the political machine in cities like New York, Philadelphia and Chicago. Sometimes they are Republicans, oftener Democrats, but no matter what they may term their politics, they are a menace to popular government. Every ship that lands its cargo of undesirable human freight is an object lesson to point the way to restrictive legislation.

A lieutenant of the Twenty-seventh In fantry, stationed at Santa Mesa, in writing to a friend in New York city about the practical effects following the abolition of the army canteen, says:
"You understand how the canteen i run. No whiskey has ever been sold in them, beer and light wines being the only drinks on tap, and these cost the soldier less than if bought from outsiders. All the profits are divided among the companies for mess funds. The amount companies for mess funds. The amount place of Finds of this week. In Solid to each man is limited, and he must T. Cheairs and his daughters Miss Hattie Miss Annie and Miss Abbie attended. drink it on the canteen premises.

The grog shops around our forts are usually kept by women. They sell the worst sort of 'fireworks' and encourage fined, gets drunk again, deserts, is captured, and sent to prison—and the woman gets the profits. The natives here sell 'bino' at 10 cents a canteenful. The men prefer beer, but, having no canteens, driak this. Nine-tenths of the men who have deserted to the enemy, who have been boloed on the road, and who have gone home sick or insane, were 'bino' fiends. It lures you like absinthe, and is much more deadly."—Manila Times.

THE NATIONAL GUARD

All arrangements have about been completed for the annual encampment at nstown, Md. Wednesday, July 17th, will be the big day at the encampment On that day Governor Smith and staff will review the troops. Lieutenant Genhave been invited to be present on that day and take part in the review. General Miles visited the Frederick answers. in the summer of 1896, and the guardsmen hope to have the pleasure of tender-ing him a marching salute at Queenstown. The day will be officially known as pared to five "Governor Day" in camp. His Excellency's staff will wear the full-dress W. Latton uniforms and they will be mounted during the review. It will be a ceremony well worth witnessing.

THE WHEAT CROP OF 1901

There will be 684,000,000 bushels o wheat in the crop of 1901, according to the figures of the statistician of the New the figures of the statistician of the New Yerk Produce Exchange, based upon the acreage and the condition as set forth by the Department of Agriculture. This, of course, will break all the records, if it loading the cans and cases for the output comes. The largest wheat crop ever har- of fruit for the coming season. He exvested thus far was that of 1898, which was 675,000,000 bushels, and none has come near that previously since 1891, when the yield was 613,000,000 bushels.

The targest wheat crop ever hard to the colling season that the colling season and thus all our residents are likewise come near that previously since 1891, when the yield was 613,000,000 bushels.

The targest wheat crop ever hard to the colling season that the colling season that the colling season and thus all our residents are likewise of possible; if not possible for you, then in the season that the colling season that the colling season that the colling season are colling season. The 684,000,000 crop would please the country exceedingly. Europe's yield is pparently going to be considerably short of the earlier expectations, and there will be a market on the other side of the United States will have to spare. The larger the crop here the better it will be

KILLED IN WILMINGTON Frank Fisher, the colored pugilist, was struck by a trolley car at Fourth and Market streets Wilmington about 10.45 o'clock Thursday evening and was fatally injured. Fisher came near being struck by a Riverview car which was going south. He quietly jumped to the other the West Eighth street line, going north, struck him on the side of the face and knocked him down. The car was stopped before the wheels could pass over The Phoenix Ambulance was called and Fisher was taken to the Delaware Hospital. There it was found that both leg were broken. The right one was broken near the hip and his left leg had all the flesh scraped off from the foot to the hip. Both legs were so badly injured that it was decided that they would have to be amputated. The operation was perfor The right leg was taken off above the knee and the left below the knee. Fisher

If you have a bad cold a warm toddy at bed time is the thing. In Scarlet Fever, Pneumonia, LaGrippe and Typhold Fever it is necessary.

When you are tired it will strengthen you. When downhearted, it will cheer you up. It is a friend in reed and a friend indeed.

But you should not abuse a friend, therefore use whisky wisely. If you do not abuse it, it will ever be your faithful servant. If you abuse it, it make you its slave. No man becomes a drunkard save after years of determined effort in that direction. Take our advice; use whisky wisely. Don't buy cheap whisky, but buy the best. Do you ask who sells the best? The question shows that you are not posted. We invite you to take a drink of ours and then ask yourself the question.

But that my thoughts had ever gone eyond all this I never dreamed, until l along the hall and out through the doorway where I sat, I did not turn my head until he asked the question "Is she not lovely, Lily? Why did you run away? She missed you, and sent "I was not hard to find," I answered.

"My delicate beauty was distinctly visible in the moonlight. Tell her I will be with you presently."

Then, unheeding the look of pained arprise in his eyes, I darted down the path. Oh, how I hated myself for the wretched discontent and envy which had given birth to words of such petty mean

She had on a white wrapper covere with lace, her lovely hair unbound an reaming far below her waist; but before guessed her intention she had thrown rself on the floor at my feet, and bur ied her face in my lap.

"I was so happy, Lily, I could not leep, and I felt I must tell you, especially, dear, as I leave you to-morrow-leave you to be married."

And then she told me how she had oved Horace Laurence from her childood, but that her mother-a proud, ampitious woman-had opposed it because ne was poor and Horace was too hono able to urge her to take any step sh might afterward repent. "It all looked so hopeless, Lily," sh said, in ending, "and when I came, dear my heart was so sad; but an uncle Grace's has died and made him a rich man, and he brought me a letter from mamma, saying she could no longer with-hold her consent. Oh, tell me, what have I done to deserve such happiness? Six weeks afterward her wedding care reached me, and I knew she had attained her life's fulfilment.

Reed Barton came and went as usua and I could detect no change in hi manner, not even an added gravity.

In the autumn a new sorrow came Father was brought in one da saw that hot flush leap into his face as he took Florence Ellis's hand in his. Then then how wise a thing it was that I was my pride sprang into being, and when, a few moments later, I heard his step come everything fell, and when death at last crossed our threshold and took the poor sufferer home, I had no time for idle sor row in the multitude of duties pressing upon me.
